This image shows a rectangular rug with a complex, symmetrical design. The central field features a large, ornate medallion in a light cream color, surrounded by dense, scrolling green and white floral motifs. The background of the central field is a light, textured beige. The rug is bordered by a wide, multi-layered decorative band. The innermost border is a dark green band with small, repeating floral patterns. This is followed by a wider band of light beige with scattered small flowers in red, yellow, and blue. The outermost border is a thin, dark green band with a repeating geometric pattern. The overall color palette is dominated by greens, beiges, and creams, with accents of red, yellow, and blue.

This image shows a highly detailed Persian rug. The central field is a deep red color, densely patterned with small, repeating floral or medallion motifs. In the center of this field is a large, intricate, light-colored (likely silver or white) medallion. This medallion has a complex, multi-layered geometric and floral design, resembling a stylized star or a large flower. Above and below the central medallion are smaller, similar motifs. The rug is framed by a wide, ornate border. This border consists of several concentric bands: an inner band with a repeating geometric pattern, followed by a band with larger, more complex floral or arabesque designs, and an outermost band with a repeating floral motif. The overall appearance is that of a high-quality, traditional hand-woven rug.

This image shows a highly detailed rug with a complex design. The central field is a deep green color, densely patterned with small, repeating floral or foliate motifs. In the center of this field is a large, intricate medallion. The medallion has a multi-layered, star-like or floral structure, with a lighter green center and various shades of green and white in its outer layers. Surrounding the central field is a wide, ornate border. This border is composed of several distinct sections: a narrow inner line, followed by a wider band with a repeating geometric or floral pattern, and an outermost band with a more complex, possibly floral or arabesque design. The overall color palette is dominated by greens, with white and light green accents in the medallion and border patterns. The rug appears to be made of a fine material, possibly silk or high-quality wool, given the sharpness of the patterns.
